Welcome to DELNET

DELNET was started at the India International Centre Library in January 1988 and was registered as a society in 1992. It was initially supported by the National Information System for Science and Technology (NISSAT), Department of Scientific and Industrial Research, Government of India. It was subsequently supported by the National Informatics Centre, Department of Information Technology, Ministry of Communications and Information Technology, Government of India and the Ministry of Culture, Government of India.

DELNET has been established with the prime objective of promoting resource sharing among the libraries through the development of a network of libraries. It aims to collect, store, and disseminate information besides offering computerised services to users, to coordinate efforts for suitable collection development and also to reduce unnecessary duplication wherever possible.

The screenshot shows the DELNET Digital Library Resources website. At the top, there is a search bar with the text "Search the DELNET Digital Library Resources" and a search button. Below the search bar, there are several categories of resources, each with a red box highlighting a search option and an arrow pointing to the category:

- Search E-Books, E-Journals, E-articles (points to the top search bar)
- Search Manuscripts & Rare Books (points to the "Manuscripts & Rare Books" category)
- Search E-Books (points to the "E-BOOKS" category)
- Search The SIS/Dissertations (points to the "THESIS/DISSERTATIONS" category)
- Search Other Online Databases (points to the "Other Online Databases" category)
- Search Language Portal (points to the "Language Learning Portal" category)

The website also features a "Knowledge Gainer Portal" and an "Other Links" section at the bottom right.

For Searching Book Catalogue, Journals, etc.

If you want to search for any specific book, kindly double click the very first database, i.e. Union Catalogue of Books: CCF. This database currently has bibliographic information of more than 70 lakh records of books, periodicals, articles, CD ROMs, Video-Recordings, Sound Recordings, Thesis's and Dissertations etc. These records are available in different Member Libraries all across the country. The database size of these Union Catalogues grows with each passing day since more and more records of the Member-Libraries are getting merged into the system on a daily basis.

Step 5 :-

As you click the Union Catalogue of Books: CCF, a window appears displaying: "You are Accessing – Union Catalogue of Books: CCF" with the searching options such as Title, Author, Subject, Series, Date of Publication, Place and Publisher, Corporate Body, Locations, etc.

Searching can be done through any of the fields available in a database. The Boolean operators can also be used between the various fields for narrowing down the search hits.

Step 6 :-

Example: Let us assume that you want to search for books on “Law of Torts”. You are requested to type “Law of Torts” in the space provided against Title Box. In order to ensure that both the words “Law” & “Torts” appear in the title of each searched record, you have to ensure that you have selected “contains all” from the following five options in the title search: “contains all”, “contains in order”, “contains the phrase”, “contains any”, “includes”. In the search results you will find that the words “Law” & “Torts” will be present in any order. But if you want “Law of Torts” to be present in the search results in the same order, i.e. “Law of Torts”, then select the option “contains in order”. If you choose the EXACT PHRASE option then the system will look out for the exact appearance of Electrical Engineering, i.e. both words to appear as exactly in the title. You can also choose the wildcard searching (right truncations) by choosing the INCLUDE option. However, please see to it that only a single word can be given in this case since it is going to perform a right truncation searching. For Example, Elect* will display the result set with the titles wherein words like Law will appear.

The searching strategies for all the databases are the same.

The Affirmative Action Fraud: Can We Restore the American Civil Rights Vision?
by Clint Bolick

Publisher: Cato Institute 1996
ISBN/ASIN: 1882577272
Number of pages: 188

Description:
A stirring moral case for a new civil rights agenda. Bolick explains in clear terms how the civil rights movement strayed off course and demonstrates what is needed to get it back on track. He challenges Americans to reclaim and reinvigorate the original civil rights vision by grounding it in individual empowerment rather than group rights.

Revisiting the normative framework of the African Commission on Human and Peoples' Rights in the context of evidence obtained through human rights violations: Has it served its purpose?

Robert D Nanima

LLD Candidate, Co-ordinator, Graduate Lecturing Assistants' Programme,
Faculty of Law, University of the Western Cape, South Africa

Summary

This article examines the normative context of the African Commission on Human and Peoples' Rights in dealing with evidence obtained through human rights violations, and whether it serves its purpose. It unpacks the concept of a norm and uses the liberal school of thought as the theoretical framework, which informs the adoption of legal norms at the regional level. These, in turn, provide a yardstick that is used to evaluate the efficacy of the norms. With the aid of four normative developments between 1992 and 2003, it evaluates the extent to which these developments serve their purpose in dealing with evidence obtained through human rights violations. It is argued that while the Tunis Resolution and the Dakar Declaration have not served the purpose of dealing with evidence obtained through human rights violations, the Robben Island Guidelines specifically dealt with evidence obtained through torture. The adoption of the Principles can be reconciled with the African Commission's approach to the admission of evidence obtained through human rights violations.
