SEARCH

Home

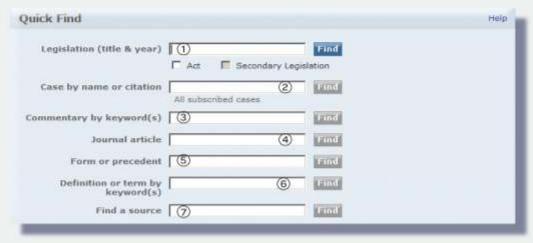

Click on the 'Home' tab to open the 'Quick Find' feature.

Quick Find

The 'Quick Find' screen, below, enables you to perform quick and easy searches, across all of your subscriptions, from the home page.

The following is a list of the research tasks available to you using the 'Quick Find' feature:

- Navigate to a particular piece of legislation using only the legislation title or part of the legislation title. To do this, use the 'Legislation (title & year)' field
 - E.g.: Type in 'copyright act 1957' to open up this piece of legislation
 - Select act to view the principal act and ✓ select secondary legislation to view the subsidiary legislation.*
- 2. Find a case using just the case citation or part of the case name. To do this, use the 'Case by name or citation' field.
 - E.g.: To find a case where the parties names are known, enter Bhagat Singh, and click find.
 - E.g.: To find a case where the citation is [1960] 2 mlj 425, enter [1960] 2 mlj 425, [2009] 9 mlj 242, then click find.
 - In this field you have the choice to search in either all of your subscribed case law products or in case analysis*(citator) alone.
- 3. Find expert commentary on a particular point of law by entering your keywords pertaining to the point of law of interest. To do this, use the 'Commentary by keyword(s)' field.
 - E.g.: To find material on evasion of tax, enter 'tax evasion'
- 4. Retrieve a journal article using the article name. To do this, use the 'Journal article' field.
 - E.g.: To find articles on supreme court, enter supreme court
- 5. Retrieve forms using the form title. To do this, use the 'Form or precedent' field.
 - E.g: incorporation w/3 company
- 6. Find legal definitions in the directory sources. To do this use "Definition or term by keyword(s)" and type the search term.
 - E.g.: To find definition of the term "Good Faith", enter "Good Faith"
- 7. Navigate to a particular source, or product, on the basis of its name. To do this, use the 'Find a source' field.
 - E.g.: Type in Ramaiya in the source field

My bookshelf* provides single-click access to your most frequently accessed sources or products available in your subscription. You are presented with two options, beside each source – Search or Browse.

- Click 'Search' if you wish to search across that source, e.g. To find a complete listing of every mention of a particular term or concept, within that given source.
- Click 'Browse' if you wish to navigate through the source as you would through a physical copy, using either the table of contents or index, where provided.
- You may also click on the icon, next to any source, to find out more about that source, such as 'When the most recent service was published?'

Customizing / Edit My Bookshelf

* My Bookshelf contains all subscribed sources only

To customize the sources appearing in the 'My Bookshelf' section:

- Click on the 'Add/remove/sort sources' link beneath 'My Bookshelf'.
- Choose which category of source you wish to add.
- Select sources to add. You can select multiple sources by holding down the 'ctrl' button on your keyboard while making your selections.
- Click on the 'Add' button to add them to your 'My Bookshelf' list.
- You can also change the order of sources in 'My Bookshelf' by clicking on 'Sort alphabetically'.
- Click 'Done'.

The 'Explore' component allows you to do a broader search. It is more useful in conducting an advanced search & gives you the flexibility for searching in various source categories like Case law, Commentary, Legislation, Forms & Precedents, Journals as well as Dictionary sources or a combination of these all at one go.

'Explore' tab also gives you the capability to build complex search strings using the 'Terms & Connectors' as well as 'Natural Language' search.

- Terms and Connectors- This method of searching is the most advanced and precise method of searching. Please refer to the 'Terms & connectors' page No. 24 for more help.
- 2. Natural Language- This method of searching allows you to keep things simple. You may enter a question, a statement, or simply a list of words describing the concepts desired. This option most closely resembles searching the open Internet with a general search engine. Though this method is perfect for those with no searching experience, it also works well when searching a subject or a content category that's unfamiliar.

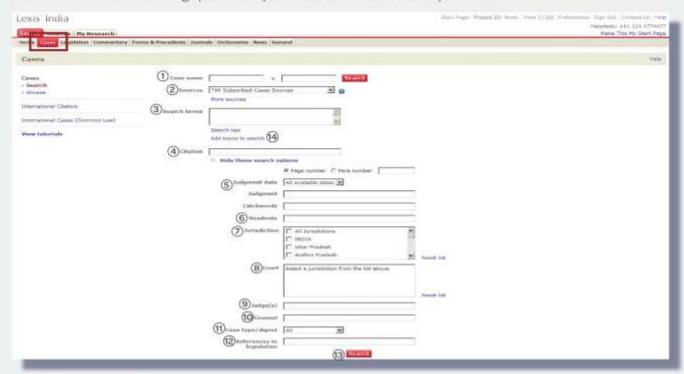

There are specific search forms to do elaborate searches. They include:

- Cases
- Legislation
- Commentary
- Forms & Precedents
- Journals
- Dictionaries
- General

Cases

Click on the 'Cases' tab to bring up the form you use to search across all of your case sources.

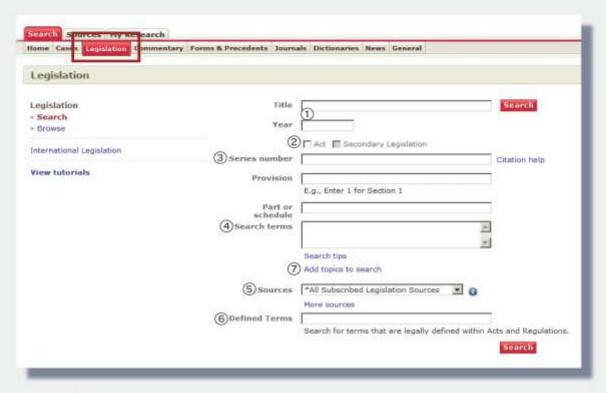

To perform your search:

- Case name is where you specify full, or part, of the case name you are searching for, e.g. Bhagat Singh versus the State of Punjab
- Sources Select your source(s) by clicking the drop-down arrow.
- Search terms is where you specify keywords that must be found anywhere within the case document, e.g. Enter medical negligence to look for cases with this term.
- Citation is where you restrict your results to contain only those that match the citation you provide, e.g., To find [1960] 2 mlj 425, type: [1960] 2mlj 425.
- 5. Judgment date Limit your search by date by using any one of the judgment date choices.
- 6. Catchwords and Headnote Find words in the catchwords and headnotes fields.
- 7. Jurisdiction Limit your search results by choosing a particular jurisdiction.
- 8. Court chose the 'Court' field to filter your search using a particular court
- 9. Judge(s) Find cases heard by a particular judge, e.g. Type J.C. Shah or A.N. Grover
- Counsel Find cases where a lawyer or firm acted.
- 11. Case type/digest To select the content type, e.g. Law reports or transcript
- References to Legislation Find cases in your results that refer to a particular piece of legislation, e.g. Guardians and wards act, 1890 enter child custody
- 13. Click the search button for your results.
- Add topics to search- You may also add various topics in your search. Please refer to the 'Add topics to search' page
 No. 26 for more help.

Legislation

Click on the 'Legislation' tab to use this form to search all of your subscribed legislation sources.

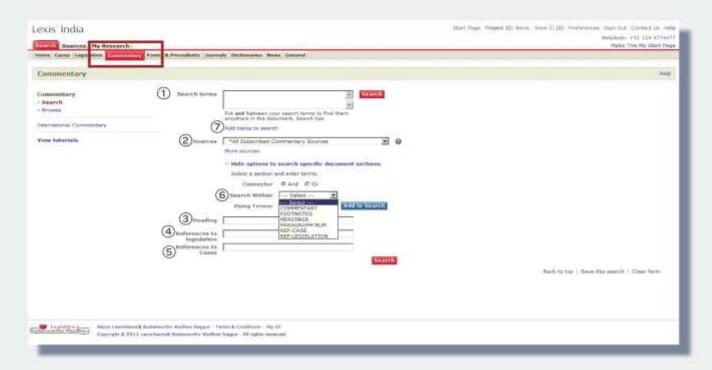

To perform your search:

- Title & Year Navigate to a particular piece of legislation using the legislation title and year. e.g.: Type in copyright act in the title field and 1957 in the year field to open up this piece of legislation.
- 3. Series number Type in the act number to open up that legislation, e.g.: Enter 1 for section 1
- 4. Search terms Type in specific keywords, to be included anywhere in the legislation. e.g.: Copyright.
- 5. Sources Click on the drop down arrow in the sources field to choose the sources you want to search across
- Defined Terms Type in words defined by legislation, e.g. Type in tenant to find interpretations on tenant across the legislation.
- Add topics to search- You may also add various topics in your search. Please refer to the 'Add topics to search' page No. 26 for more help.

Commentary

Click on the 'Commentary' tab to use this form to search all of your subscribed commentary sources

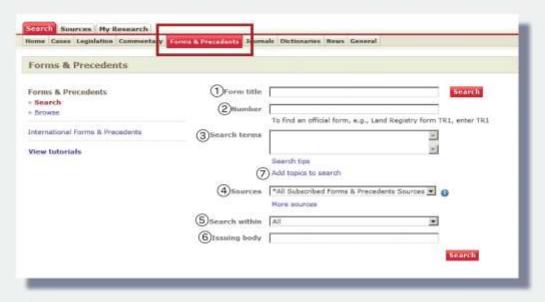

To perform search:

- Search terms Type in specific keywords, to be included anywhere in the commentary sources. e.g.: to find commentary on double taxation, enter double taxation.
- Sources Click on the drop down arrow in the sources field to choose the sources you want to search across.
 Alternatively you can also select 'All Subscribed Commentary Sources' to search across all your sources for commentary. You can also combine two or more sources in this field.
- 3. Heading Use this field to type to search in the main heading of each commentary chapter e.g.: Insider trading
- References to legislation Enter terms to search within References to Legislation.
- References to Cases- Enter the citation for a particular case to find the reference in the commentary e.g.: [2002] 2 mlj 157
- 6. You can also search within specific document section in the commentary like-Footnote, Headings, Page number etc.
- Add topics to search- You may also add various topics in your search. Please refer to the 'Add topics to search' page
 No. 26 for more help.

Forms & Precedents

Click on the 'Forms & Precedents' to bring up the form to search across all of your subscribed Forms & Precedents sources.

- 3. Defined Terms Enter the word or phrase you require a definition for. e.g.: company
- 4. References to legislation Enter terms to search within references to legislation
- 5. References to cases Enter words to search within references to cases
- Add topics to search- You may also add various topics in your search. Please refer to the 'Add topics to search' page
 No. 26 for more help.

General

General Search is the broadest search available on Lexis® India. For this reason, it is best to use this search form when you are looking for something highly specific, or are researching an unfamiliar area of law.

To create your search:

- Enter your query in the 'Search terms' field.
- Then, in the 'Sources'* field, choose which source you wish to research by clicking on the arrow in the drop-down box.
- Source Type- Provides searching under multiple categories like Case Law, Legislation, Commentary etc. all together.
 Please refer to 'Explore' section on page No. 8 for more help.
- Click the Search button to perform your search.
- Add topics to search- You may also add various topics in your search. Please refer to the 'Add topics to search' page
 No. 26 for more help.

^{*} It is important to note that, when you leave the general search form the sources drop-down box will revert to the source that was last used.

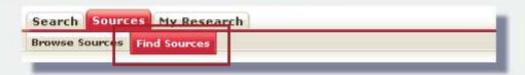

SOURCES

The source directory organizes and displays all sources in your subscription. Use the source directory to find the source you wish to access, either through viewing lists of sources, or by searching for a specific source.

To access the source directory, click on the source directory tab. The source directory provides two main ways to locate your sources:

- Find Sources
- Browse Sources

Find Sources

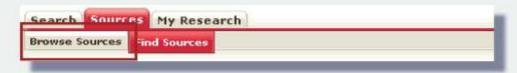

Use find sources:

- To search for a particular source when you know its name.
- To create a customized grouping of sources using the source directory
- Click on the name of the source to add it to your selected sources. (Repeat the above steps until you have added all the sources you wish to include. You can remove sources at any time by clicking on 'remove' next to the name of the source in the 'Selected Sources' tray.)
- You can give your customized grouping a name under 'Name Selected Sources'.
- Ensure 'Save as a Favourite' is ticked.
- Click on 'Ok Continue'.

Browse Sources

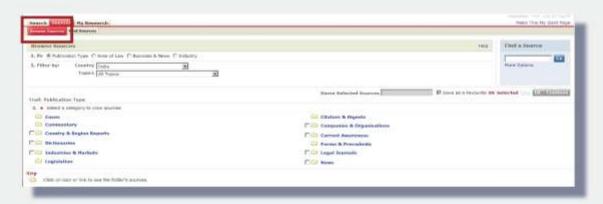

'Browse Sources' allows you to navigate through categorized folders of sources. This is useful if you want to look at all your sources that deal with a given area of law.

Browsing Contents

You can navigate a single source by using the table of contents

Combine Sources

The 'Combine Sources' is a unique feature in Lexis*India. It helps you to select multiple sources together and create your favorites. This is useful when you want to look for a topic in multiple sources. Rather than looking for the topic in individual books, one can combine multiple books and run a search.

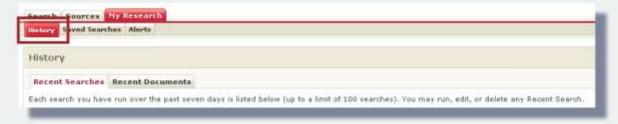

MY RESEARCH

Lexis®India conveniently keeps a log of every search you have run, and every document you have viewed. Accessing your search history is done via the 'My Research' tab.

History

Recent Searches

Each search you run is automatically archived for up to seven days. This allows you to re-run a recent search as originally constructed. You also have the opportunity to edit the search first,

To re-run a search, click on 'Run' next to that particular search in the recent searches section.

Recent Documents

Each document you view is automatically archived for 48 hours. This allows you to retrieve any document you have viewed without having to remember what search you originally performed.

To access a recently-viewed document, click on the name of that document under recent documents.

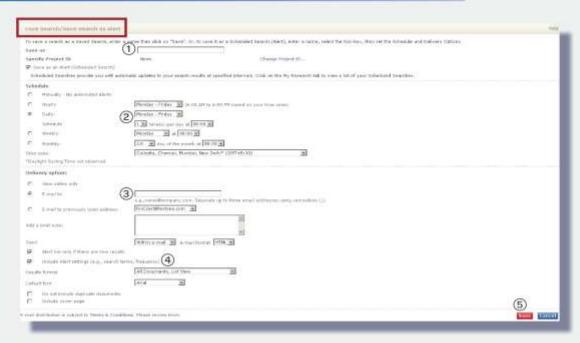

Saved Searches

Use the saved searches form to run, edit, and delete the searches you have saved. You may also schedule any saved search as an alert.

Alerts

To set up a scheduled alert: Run the search you wish Lexis®India to continue to run for you.

Click on the icon at the top right of your search results screen.

- 1. Insert your chosen title, for the scheduled search, in the save as field.
- 2. Select how frequently you want the search to run, e.g.: Daily, weekly, monthly.
- 3. Enter an email address to specify where you want the results to be sent.
- 4. Choose your notification and results format preferences.
- 5. Click the 'Save' button.

You can delete and modify alerts from the research manager.

ENHANCE YOUR SEARCH- SEARCHING WITHIN RESULTS

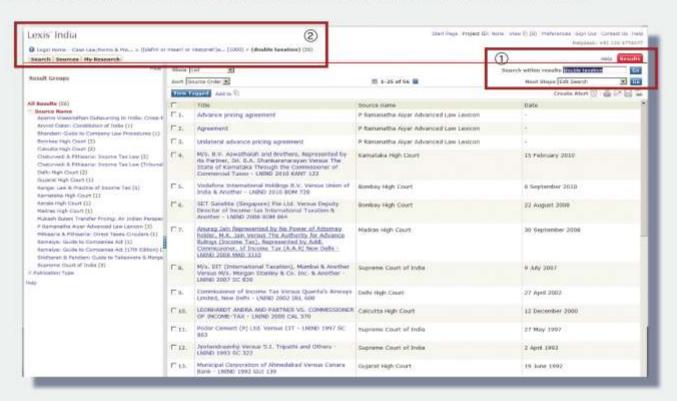

Lexis®India has many options for narrowing in on the precise documents you are after. This section covers four options:

- Narrow Search
- Result Classification
- View format- Results Display
- View Number of Hits

Narrow Search

1. You can search within your results by adding 'Terms and/or Connectors' to the narrow search box, circled below:

This will reduce your current result set to include only those that contain the additional search criteria.

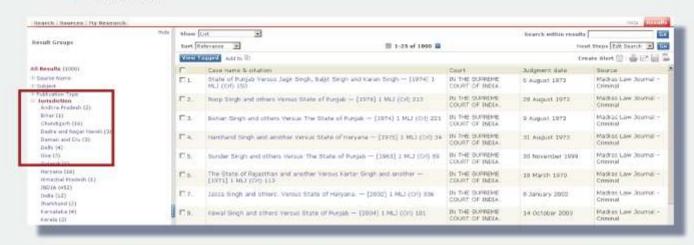

Breadcrumb Trail- The source and terms for your search are displayed in a 'trail' in the upper left of the Results page.
The trail shows the path you took to arrive at your results. You may click on a source name or Search form name in the trail to return to the Search form where you ran the search, or clock on search terms to return to the results of that search. As per the screenshot above.

Result Classification*

You can filter your results according to a few criteria:

- Source name
- Subject
- Source type
- Table of contents
- Jurisdiction

Choose a viewing category by clicking on it. Only results belonging to that category will be displayed,

^{*}Please note the results group vary along with each search category

View format-results display

Your results can be displayed in a different format, which vary in the amount of detail they display.

To change your results' view format, use the drop-down arrow in the view field shown in the screen shot above.

- List Displays basic information, about the documents your search retrieved, in a numbered list.
- Expanded List Displays list view and the context in which your search terms were found within the document. It will display 10 words on either side of each occurrence of your search terms.
- List with Catchwords Displays list view, and the catchwords which have been added to each case, when viewing cases in your results.

View number of hits

In document view, the number of search terms, 'Hits', in the document is displayed on the bottom of each document. Click the hits navigation buttons to move quickly from search term to search term in the document.

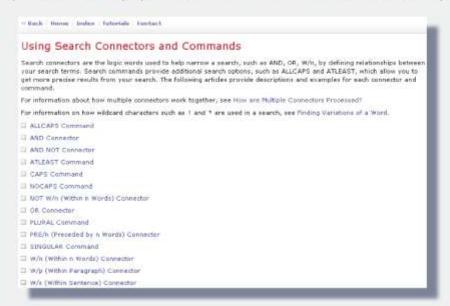

USING SEARCH CONNECTORS AND SMART INDEXING

Terms & Connectors

Click on search tips for more information on using connectors to construct a search term.

There will be a pop-up window which displays all the connectors and commands available to help narrow a search

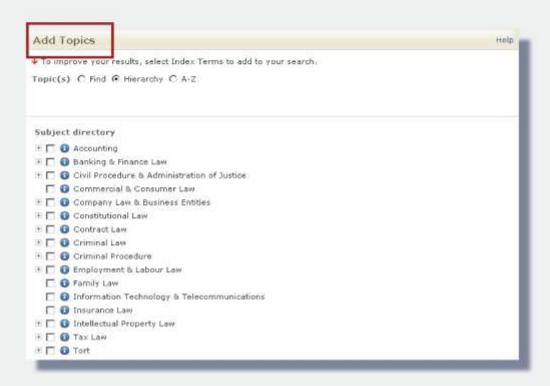

Connector	Example	Function	Additional Usage Notes
And	Marriage and short and duration	The and connector finds your search terms within the same document.	As a general rule, use and when it doesn't matter how far apart your search words Appear in a document.
Or	Lawyer or counsel or Attorney	Use the or connector to find documents that Contain either, or both, of the words or phrases linked by or.	Use the or connector to link search words that are synonyms, alternative spellings, or abbreviations.
And not	Trust and not charitable	Use the and not connector to find documents in which a search word or phrase is not mentioned.	If you build your search using multiple Connectors, and include and not in your search, it should be the last connector you use. Otherwise everything after the and not will be excluded.
W/n	Fraud w/3 tax	Specifies that words must Occur within* n" words of each other. Either word may occur first.	Use the w/n connector to find documents with search words that appear within "n" words of each other. The value of "n" can be any number up to 255. Use w/n to join words and phrases that express parts of a single idea or to join closely-associated ideas. You can use multiple w/n connectors to join several words in a proximity search.
Pre/n	Summary pre/3 judgment	Specifies that words must Occur within "n" words of each other, in the order you Specified.	Pre/n is primarily useful in situations where a different word order significantly alters meaning. For example, "summary judgment" is significantly different from "judgment summary".
W/p	Medical negligence w/p hospital	Use the w/p connector to find documents with search words that appear within the same paragraph.	W/p connectors cannot be used in combination with w/n connectors.
Truncation	Walk!	Use an exclamation mark (!) To find a root word plus all the words made by adding letters to the end of it.	Exclamation mark automatically retrieves the plurals and possessives of nouns that follow a standard pattern, and different tenses of verbs that follow standard patterns (e.G. Walk, walking, walked, but not run, running, ran).
Wildcard	Maxi*e Prce	Use an asterisk (*) to replace characters any where in a word, except the first character. Use one asterisk for each character you want to replace.	Use the asterisk to hold a space for Variations in spelling at any point in a word. If you use asterisks at the end of a word, they do not all have to be filled, but may find up to the specified number of Characters. (E.G. Maximi*e will find Maximise or maximize)

2. Add topics

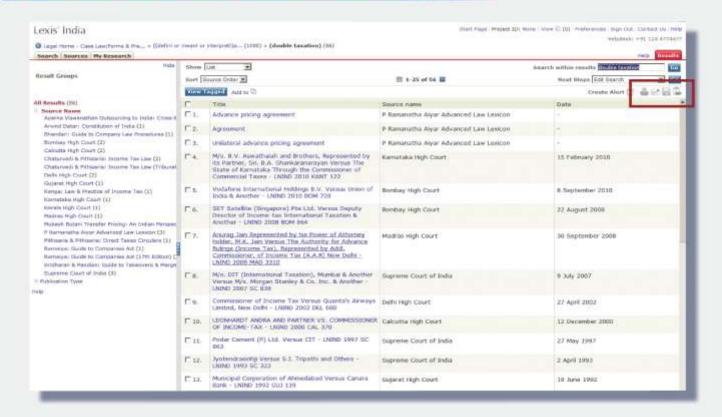

Click on 'Add topics to search' for smart indexing, The following page will help you to add index terms to your search. It helps you to choose legal topics from the list and narrow your search to the specific practice area.

DELIVERY MECHANISMS

You can then access the documents in the document delivery folder by clicking on the icon at the top of the screen.

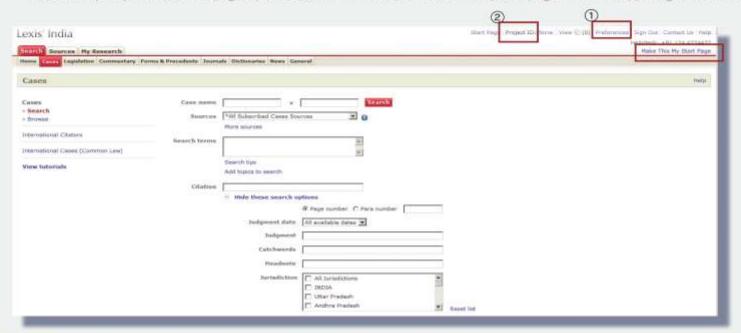

CUSTOMIZING LEXIS®INDIA

Changing the start page

You can specify which page/search form you want displayed when you log on to Lexis®India.

Example: If your research consists primarily of case searches, you may want to have the cases search form displayed as your 'start page'.

To choose your preferred start page, open it up and then click the 'make this my start page' link in the upper right of the form.

Other preferences

- 1. You can set a variety of to Lexis*India options by changing your preferences. Some of the options you can set include:
 - Default start page
 - Default view format for your search results
 - Default time zone for alerts
 - The number of documents displayed at one time in your search results
 - Change password

To change your preferences, click on the 'preferences' link at the top right hand corner of your page.

Note: You need a user profile to register your preferences. If you do not require a user name and password to sign in to Lexis®India, you will not be able to change the default preferences settings.

 Project ID: The project ID option allows you to create separate project IDs and save your research under different names to differentiate between searches conducted for separate clients.
